Why sponsor the CIM Capital Projects Symposium?

► Where mining capital project leaders align

When CIM and The Management and Economics Society of CIM (MES) combine their networks, the result is a rare concentration of expertise in one place.

At CPS 2026, mine owners, EPC/EPCM leaders, financiers, and technical specialists engage in candid, peer-to-peer exchanges about the real challenges shaping mining projects today. By becoming a sponsor, you position your organization at the centre of these critical conversations, gaining direct access to decision-makers and influencers who are actively driving project outcomes. Sponsorship offers a unique opportunity to showcase your expertise, build meaningful relationships, and demonstrate your commitment to advancing innovation and collaboration across the mining sector.

If you are responsible for delivering capital projects on time, on budget, and with stakeholder alignment – this is where you connect and explore practical solutions.
